

LONDON DUNGEON :

- London Dungeon is a horror museum, which opened in 1976 in the quarter of London Bridge.

- Since the time it was opened, it's getting better!
People found macabre and bloody reproductions.

- They use actors and special effects, this museum is to discover the history of London, lively, scary and funny.

We can see Jack the ripper,
Sweeney Todd and Bloody Mary

During the visit, visitors do a course. They see the big London fire and the epidemy of plague.

We can see Jack the ripper :

It was an unidentified serial killer generally believed to have been active in the largely impoverished areas and around the White Chapel district of London in 1888.

Sweeny Todd :

it's a fictional character who first appeared as the villain of the Victorian penny dreadful series

The String of Pearls 1846

And Bloody Mary:

She was the Queen of England and Ireland from July 1553 until her death .

She is best known for her aggressive attempts to reverse the English Reformation.

The course lasts one hour but the museum is not recommended to children under 12 because scenes can shock them .

